Six Seniors Receive Bids To Phoenix

Bids to Phoenix honorary society have been issued to six seniors this quarter: Mary Barger, Waynesboro; Margie Anne Dial, Monroe; Gloria Doughtie, Columbus; Edith Lewis, Vidalia; Gretchen Waldrep, Atlanta; and Dorothy Wellborn, Talladega, Ala.

Betty Hayes, Milledgeville; Mary Ann Aiken, Macon; and Carolyn Hancock, Atlanta, were elected to Phoenix in previous quarters.

Members of this honorary society will be presented in chapel at Honors Day exercises Monday, April 12.

Phoenix was first started on the GSCW campus in 1939 by a committee of Phi Beta Kappa members of the faculty. Dr. Hoy Taylor has been chairman of this committee since it originated.

Members of the organization are selected from the upper seven percent of the senior class. Requirements include a minimum of 28 courses credit and a minimum of 15 of these courses at GSCW.

PRACTICING THE DANCE, "With a Lift and a Lilt," which they composed, are Ruth Doster, Jeannette Cauley, Betty Bonnell, Betty Greer, and Janice Rayburn.

GSCW College Theatre To Present "Our Hearts Were Young And Gay"

"Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," a gay and rollicking comedy, will be College Theatre's spring quarter production, to be presented April 29 and 30 in Russell Auditorium. The plot concerns two college girls, Emily Kimbrough and Cornelia Otis Skinner, who take a voyage and turn Paris upside down.

The cast includes:

Mr. Max Noah will play the role of Otis Skinner. Dr. Stephen Dillard will portray a French actor, Monsieur de la Croix and Father John D. Toomey is to be the ship's purser. The roles of Madame Elsing, the steward, and the window washer have not been selected.

On the production staff, Frances Lawson will be stage manager; Jane Macrae will head stage crew, and LaVerne Womble acts as Alpha Psi Omega adviser. Vera Ann McElhannon advises Frances Harwell as head of costumes. Joyce Oliphant heads lights with the assistance of Gretchen Waldrep as Alpha Psi adviser. Frances Binion will head props and Barbara Harrison will act as adviser. Wylene Edwards advises Margaret Anderson as head of publicity, and Virginia Bradford is adviser for sound crew headed by Mary Mickelson. Jeanne Kleber is head of make-up; Anne Mainor serves as adviser. Jean Whitmire is business manager.

Anne Mainor holds the newly-formed position of production manager and will also be house manager.

Dr. Katherine Gilbert Speaks At Honors Day

Dr. Katherine Gilbert will be Honors Day speaker in chapel on April 12, when the new Phoenix members will be presented. Dr. Gilbert is chairman of the Department of aesthetics, art, and music at Duke University.

She has recently returned to this country after five months in Europe, chiefly in Italy, where she worked as a representative of the newly created Committee for International Cooperation of the American Philosophical Association. She also worked under the informal sponsorship of the cultural and informational subdivision of the United States Information Services.

GSCW Modern Dance Club Presents Recital Of Original Dances April 14

The Modern Dance Club, under the direction of Dr. Barbara Beiswanger, will present its annual recital April 14, at 8 o'clock in Russell Auditorium. All the dances which they will present at this time were composed by members of the dance club.

The program for the recital will include:

Opening Dance—Emile Waldteufel

With a Lift and a Lilt—Morton Gould

Spirituals:

I'm Gonna Walk With My Lord—Arranged by Robert Shaw

Set Down Servant—Arranged by J. De Forest Cline

Holiday Song

Dream Fantasy—Leonard Bernstein

Wistful—Maurice Ravel

Variations on Oh Susanna—Arranged by Paul Nordhoff

Sailors on Leave—Leonard Bernstein

Sweet Betsy from Pike—American Folk Tune arranged by Burl Ives

Perpetual Motion—Francis Poulenc

Rhapsody in Blue—George Gershwin

Three Fantastic Dances—Dimitri Shostakovich

The Ichauway Dance—Hugh Hodgson

Which Shall It Be, Harmony or Discord—Jacob Gade

Solo—Aaron Copeland

The Battle Hymn of the Republic—Arranged by Roy Ringwald

Dot Smith, graduate member of the club, will return for the program to dance two solos.

One of the high points of the program will be the solo of Barbara Burch, president of the club for the past two years. Her dance is entitled Wistful, to the music Sonatine, composed by Maurice Ravel.

Other solos are a comedy to polka time, Sweet Betsy from Pike, Fran Lane; Perpetual Motion by Francis Poulenc, Gwen Mincey; Dream Fantasy by Leonard Bernstein, Frances Lawson.

The girls who went to North Carolina, Barbara Burch, Gwen Mincey, Frances Lawson, and Ruth Carter, will open the second half of the program. Their composition, Three Fantastic Dances, to the music of Shostakovich, won honors for the GSCW Dance Club in the Dance Symposium at the University of North Carolina, March 11, 12.

The A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Mr. Max Noah, will assist the club on several of their numbers.

The cover for the program was designed by Mr. Richard Williams.

Miss Padgett's art class has made the posters for the event.

Miss Edna West is in charge of the lighting effects.

Officers for the Modern Dance Club are Barbara Burch, president; Cissy Mitchell, vice-president; Frances Lawson, secretary; Gwen Mincey, treasurer; Sara Kennedy, research chairman.

Rosamond Gilder To Appear April 8 On Lecture Series

Miss Rosamond Gilder will appear on the GSCW lecture series April 8, at 8:30 p.m. in Russell Auditorium. She will discuss "The American Theatre On and Off Broadway."

For the past 20 years, Miss Gilder has been a member of the "Theatre Arts Magazine" staff as dramatic critic, associate editor, and finally as editor.

Miss Gilder, daughter of Richard Watson Gilder, poet and editor of "Century Magazine," is a member of the "New York Drama Critics Circle" whose annual designation of the season's outstanding drama is regarded as the most significant award a playwright can receive.

Secretary of the American National Theatre Academy, she will be a special lecturer on the staff of Barnard College in New York City next year.

Miss Gilder has written such books as "The Life of Richard Watson Gilder," "Enter the Actress," "The First Woman in the Theatre," "John Gielgud's Hamlet," "A Theatre Library, a Bibliography of One Hundred Books in the Theatre," and "Theatre Collections in Libraries." She has also translated "My Life" by Emma Calver.

She has lectured on the theatre in New York City, at drama and theatre conventions, and at universities and colleges in the east and far west.

Miss Gilder was editorial secretary of the National Theatre Conference and director of the Playwrights Bureau of the Federal Theatre.

Parents Day Comes April 9th

Parents Day will be held at GSCW on Friday, April 9. This annual event is sponsored by the Granddaughter's Club and Alumnae Association. A prize will be given this year to the dormitory having the highest percentage of parents present.

There will be only first and second period classes on this day. Parents who wish to do so may visit these classes.

The chapel program at 10:30 will open with an organ prelude by Miss Maggie Jenkins. Frances Tucker, member of the Granddaughter's Club, will give the devotional.

Dr. Donald H. MacMahon, dean of instruction, will extend a welcome to the parents and guests. Betty Wells, president of the Granddaughter's Club, will also give a welcome address.

The A Cappella choir will sing an arrangement of "Beautiful Savior" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic." Jane Slover will be the soloist.

Mrs. T. H. Smith, instructor at Peabody High school and president of the Alumnae Association, will introduce the speaker, Miss Catherine Allen of the University of Tennessee, a graduate of GSCW, who will be here as a guest of Miss Katherine Scott. The program will close with the singing of the "Alma Mater."

Dinner for students, guests, and parents will be served on front campus at 1:00 o'clock.

IN A SCENE from "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," Mrs. Skinner, Joan Faulkner, and Mr. Skinner, Mr. Max Noah, observe the enthusiasm of Cornelia, Margaret Anderson, Emily, Wylene Edwards, is puzzled about the whole thing.

College Government Aims

1. Cooperation and joint planning with the faculty on problems relating to both faculty and students.
2. Closer coordination of all branches of CGA, and cooperation with the Y and Rec Association.
3. Continue to promote a more effective honor system by working and cooperating with the Honor Board.
4. Support of the work of the standing committees and any other committees that may be created to meet special needs.
5. Recommendation of such regulations as will be in the interests of better group living.
6. Action on such matters as may be brought before Student Council, always striving to make decisions that will be in the best interest of the students and the faculty.
7. Inform students and faculty of what is being done about problems relating to the group as a whole and provide opportunity for both to express opinion.
8. Continuation of the junior advisers for freshmen and plan a training program for them to be executed during spring quarter.
9. Encourage more interested participation in College Government.
10. Consideration of the recommendations of the out-going Council, and continuation of the work that they have done.
11. Make College Government an effective program of training for participation in government after college by cooperating with our campus organization, The League of Women Voters, and at the same time a working program to achieve the best possible standards for democratic group living on our campus.

Spring 1947-1948

"In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love." Yes, and many a young lady's turns in the same direction.

But I want you to think on something else for a moment. It is now spring, and with our new CGA officers elected and their aims stated we should think back to last year, to last spring. What were our aims then? How many of them have we supported; how many completed; how many still to be worked on; how many are things toward which we must always strive? Reprinted here is an article from The Colonnade, April 8, 1947, stating the aims of CGA.

PAST AIMS

"CGA—Closer coordination of all the branches of CGA, 'Y', and 'Rec'; continued cooperation with the faculty on problems relating to faculty and students; strive to promote a more effective honor system by working and cooperating with the Honor Board; careful consideration of any changes in rules, asking for such changes that seem best for the student body; continue support of standing committees and give aid to them in every way possible; consideration of all matters referred to Student Council and takes such action that seem best for the student body; continuation of the Junior Advisers for the Freshmen and plan a training program for them to be executed during spring quarter; encourage more student participation in College Government through all branches of the government, placing emphasis on the incoming Freshmen; consideration of the recommendation of the out-going Council and continuation of their work; inform students of what is being done about problems relating to the group as a whole, and provide opportunity for students to express their opinions; to make College Government an effective organization in providing for a happier and better group on our campus."

Accomplishments

Now let's see what we did. There was definite progress made in coordinating the three major organizations and it must not stop now. Faculty student relations were promoted through informal gatherings and faculty student dinners. The educational program of the Honor Board included holding dormitory discussions and drawing up the honor pledge. Many new rules that were passed have proved successful—unlimited lights for freshmen, eleven o'clock permission on Saturday, and Sunday, extra riding and dating privileges. The point system was revised and Judiciary redefined the penalties with great improvement. The freshmen orientation was more thorough and well executed. The campus courtesy committee worked toward better manners for more pleasant group living on our campus. The scholarship committee began the practice of awarding a scholarship cup in the freshman dormitories. CGA began Dead Week.

YOUR PART

Now, where did we fall down? Did we take a more active interest in our college government? Was our honor system all that it could have been? Did we try to find out what went on, and the how and why of things that were done? If our college government fell down in any such way much of the fault lies with us—the students. We should each take an active interest and an active part in CGA. Much—very much—was accomplished last year. But the job is by no means complete. It will take interest, cooperation, and action on the part of each student to make this year a more successful one. We are fortunate. We have had excellent leaders and we still have them. With such a fine foundation we cannot and must not fail to make our College Government grow to promote better democratic living at GSCW.

The Colonnade Speaks

The Colonnade is your paper.

Do you realize exactly what this means? Because it is your paper, The Colonnade staff members want to publish your views on issues, the kind of features and news stories that you like to read.

But sometimes we have no way of knowing what your views are or what kind of news you like to read. We can know these things only if you tell us by "Letters to the Editor," and by your comments and opinions expressed to us.

Because it is your paper, we want you to know the plans and hopes we have for The Colonnade.

We want to wholeheartedly cooperate with CGA, Y, Rec, and every other organization on campus in their projects, plans, and proposals.

The new staff will continue to use no syndicated material. We will continue to have our news stories, features, and cartoons done by the students on campus—and we'll try to make them readable, interesting, and in accepted journalistic style.

We'll make mistakes, of course. Sometimes they're unavoidable. But we'll try to make as few as possible.

And most of all, we want you to keep in mind that we need your contributions, comments, and criticisms, good and bad. That way we can keep working for the day when The Colonnade will really be the voice of every student on campus.

From CGA To You

Friends and Fellow Students:

At CGA Retreat the latter part of winter quarter those of us who, because of your support, had the opportunity of attending this informative and progressive meeting, were reassured that the faculty is always for us and with us on any issue or plan for which sufficient reason can be given. The hardest fact to realize and cope with was that the students (and this lack doesn't end where student officers begin), do not always support issues or plans for which sufficient reason can be given. For example: to have rules changed your Student Council studies the wants and needs of the students; if enough reason favoring a change are found so as to make it feasible to ask this change, then it is submitted to the Faculty Committee on Student Relations. But the reasons do not all come under the category of what is wanted. Reasons must be shown to prove that the students when accepting any greater privileges are capable also of accepting just as great if not greater responsibilities in administering, living up to, and realizing the limitations of any change.

Yes, this is where we fall down in our support, our support to the government which has given us the right to help govern ourselves. Is it that we are incapable of accepting our responsibilities? I think not!

I think it is that we have not understood that it is our honor-bound duty to live up to what we have and show interest in what we might have. We have not realized that unless we show enough active interest and support in what we have by living up to it by the letter that we have tied the hands of our student leaders or faculty in getting more for us.

College Government began its new year with the installation of new officers. Since that time we have been holding discussions and making plans in an effort to start the progress towards more student interest and participation. The success of these plans are not possible without you. We want to make progress; "we", the faculty, officers, and students.

With the utmost confidence and faith in you,

CATHERINE LUTHER,
 President, CGA

Music Festival Attracts 3000 To GSCW Last Week

Colorful band uniforms, glee club members dressed all in white, the sound of drums, trumpets, and clarinets—these marked the state music festival held at GSCW March 31 to April 2. Approximately 3000 people from various parts of the state attended the event.

Mr. Max Noah, head of the GSCW department of music, was local chairman of the festival. Mr. Noah is executive secretary of the Georgia Music Educators' Association, which sponsors the event, and Miss Maggie Jenkins of the campus music department is the secretary-treasurer. Mrs. J. S. Hupan, Atlanta, was in general charge of the festival.

The festival was divided into two parts with competition for the elementary schools on April 1 and that for the high schools on April 2.

The state festival chairmen were:
 Festival, J. S. Rutan; Instrumental, Rollin W. Tuttle; Vocal, Douglas Rumble, Jr.; Piano, Mildred Harding; Elementary, Earle Epting; Membership, Guyton McLeod; Program, Lowrey Haynie.

A highlight of the festival was the marching event at 8 p.m. Thursday at GMC stadium. The event began with a parade of 10 high school bands starting at the GSCW campus and progressing to the stadium where each performed.

Judges for the festival included J. T. Ellis of Montgomery, Ala.; Harris Mitchell of Athens; Raymond Anderson of Birmingham, Ala.; Dr. J. R. Wilson of New York City; Carlton Butler of Tuscaloosa, Ala.; and Miss Despy Carlas of Athens.

Six Girls Live In Vinson House

Girls living in Vinson Home management house this quarter are:

Nellie Witt Tew, Manchester; Ella Mae Jenkins, Hapeville; Jean Penfield, Adairsville; Mary Ann Ginn, Carnesville; Mary Ellen Hosh, Smyrna; and Amelia Vance, Gainesville.

Mrs. Ivey Adams of Concord, will act as chaperone.

Arnold Parker Says:

I want to thank those of you who have been coming in to "Clean With Us" during the first part of this year, and to invite more of you LADIES to come in also. It is almost impossible for me to personally see each of you when you come in—but, please be sure that I appreciate your good patronage, and will do everything possible to give you the very best in cleaning service.

Let Us Introduce You To Some Favorite College Personalities

The first person you meet on your arrival at GSCW is your housemother. It is interesting to know just a little about her in order that you may understand her as she understands you.

If you reside in Atkinson you will become closely acquainted with Mrs. Marie Martin, who regards GSCW as her only real home, for she attended school here for five years, and has been a housemother since 1925. She has, at one time or another, lived in every dormitory on campus with the exception of Beeson. "Mother Martin" as she is known by the Atkinson family is always remembered for her wonderful peanut candy. She loves to sew, but her outstanding hobby is gardening. Every day, if the weather permits, you will see Mrs. Martin in her garden, which is her pride and joy.

In Sanford you will meet Miss Lottie Neese. Originally from Atlanta, she moved to Waycross where she taught speech and dramatics for 10 years before coming to this campus. She has been a senior housemother for 11 years. During her spare time she is a camp counselor and director. If you lived in Sanford you would become very well acquainted with General Peter, Miss Neese's mythical boyfriend, who remembers all important occasions with telegrams.

In Ennis you will meet Mrs. Martha Hill Jennings from Thomasville, who is fairly new on the campus. She came here last September, at which time she was house director of Mayfair. At Beeson is Mrs. Martha Christian, formerly from Buena Vista. She has one daughter, who is an alumna of the college. Mrs. Christian attended Wesleyan for two years, and has been a housemother at GSCW for 21 years. She has resided in every dormitory except Atkinson and Mayfair.

Our newest housemother is Mrs. George L. Smith from Swainsboro, who made her appearance last September. She is housemother of Mayfair and Mansion.

In Terrell is Mrs. Georgia Wallace from Lexington. This year marked the beginning of her 10th year at GSCW. When the Waves came here in 1941, Mrs. Wallace served as dietitian for two years. She received a B.S. degree from this college and her daughter is an alumna of GSCW. Mrs. Byrdie O'Calligan, who has been here for 10 years, is house director for Bell Annex. Mrs. O'Calligan opened Sanford Hall.

In Bell Hall is Mrs. Iron A. Bowden. This is her fifth year at GSCW. She, too, has been in practically every dormitory on campus. Mrs. Bowden's hobby is the Bell Hall garden and her flowers.

Mrs. Pearl Hyde is in Terrell Annex. This is her fifth year on the campus. Before coming here she was a fraternity housemother at Emory for 12 years. Her hobby is freshman. She says, "I love them."

Ahem! Have A Cigar! It's On Colonnade

Ahem! Have a cigar—it's on The Colonnade. We're very proud and pleased to announce the arrival of our new typewriter.

We wish to extend our thanks and appreciation to Dr. Donald C. Fuller, the mysterious typewriter, who was responsible for our possessing this new, lovely little creature. Lovely? Yes, and charming, too. At last our typist can be sure that when they type a "T" they won't come out with a capital "Y." Or, at least, we hope they're sure.

Anyhow, it's an improvement over Junior. Not that we're fickle—just grateful!

GSCW Chemistry Club To Sponsor Herty Day May 1

On May 1 the GSCW Chemistry Club will hold its annual Herty Day program, Ellen Gwin, president, has announced. Dr. Wirtley F. Rudd, Dean Emeritus of the School of Pharmacy, Medical College of Virginia, has been selected to receive the 1948 Herty Medal. This medal named in honor of the late Charles H. Herty, past president of the American Chemical Society and originator of the process for paper from Southern pine, is given for outstanding contributions to chemistry in the Southeast through research or teaching.

Several events will highlight Herty Day. At 3:30 an afternoon tea will be given by the Chemistry Club at the Mansion, the home of President and Mrs. Guy H. Wells. At 5:30 dinner will be served on the front campus. If the weather prevents this, dinner will be served in a college dining room to be designated later. At 7:30 the awarding of the Herty Medal in Russell Auditorium will take place. Dr. Rudd will deliver the address. An informal dance in the college gymnasium will follow the evening program.

The committee chairmen for the program of the day are: Pat Dent, dance chairman; Mary Ham, decorations; Barbara Fowler, music; Frances Jackson, ticket chairman; Mary Frances Lane, publicity.

State FTA To Meet At GSCW April 16-17

Georgia's Future Teachers of America will meet at GSCW April 16 and 17 for their annual conference. Representatives of college and high school FTA organizations will be here for the conference. Schools planning to establish FTA organizations will also send representatives.

Officers of FTA on campus are Betty Moore, Nunex, president; Jean Lindsey, Marietta, vice-president; Virginia Little, Atlanta, secretary; Kathleen Frazer, Washington, treasurer; Frances Harwell, Monroe, historian; and Betty Benning, Atlanta, parliamentarian.

GSCW YWCA Holds Annual Spring Retreat

Y spring retreat was held at Nesbitt Woods April 2 and 3. This retreat was the first to be held in the new cabins there.

Olive Boline, new president, gave the welcoming speech. Dr. George Beiswanger, member of the Y advisory board, gave the opening talk. Reports of the old cabinet members were given. Later, plans for next year were formulated by the new cabinet members.

The Rev. John McMullen, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Milledgeville, gave the closing address of the retreat.

Miss Pat Malcom, member of the advisory board, acted as chaperon for the retreat.

Alice Davis, tea chairman. Dr. L. C. Lindsley, head of the chemistry department at GSCW, was the founder of Herty Day here.

Letter To Students

Stuttgart, Germany, March 9, 1948

Dear Students:

This is the story of a German refugee, the story of my chauffeur-interpreter, from the time World War II opened until now. His name is Opella. He is the kind of boy one likes at first sight. He is not a native of Stuttgart, but he knows his way around, and I have ridden with him for over a month now. Part of the time he has acted as my interpreter, and I have picked up much interesting information about him.

This afternoon Opella called on me, and I was able to get a more connected story of his life. When the war broke out in 1939, he was 17. His father was a railroad engineer and had saved considerable money and was about ready to retire. The boy had planned to enter the University of Breslau that fall to study medicine. The war, of course, ended his educational plans, and he entered the navy where he served until most of the German naval vessels were sunk. He was then transferred to the infantry and sent to a special school. The war ended before he had finished this training. He was a prisoner of war, at first, but was later released. He had nothing but his navy uniform. He was not allowed to go back to Silesia as this section of Germany had become a part of Poland, and the Russians had forced all Germans to leave and confiscated their property. His mother and father had to flee from their home separately, after losing all of their property. It was many months before the father could find the mother. They now live in Frankfurt in one small room, with some friends.

When Opella was released from prison camp, he and a young companion went from city to city looking for work. He and the other boy were welcomed into any German home they came to and given the best food and bed. The German mother would say always, "I have a son or sons somewhere, and I hope some one looks after them." Opella is also a good musician. He found that many of the Americans enjoyed music, and often he and his friend would play for American officers and their families. In this way he picked up a great deal of English which has come in handy. He and his friend finally arrived in Stuttgart looking for work. Opella became sick and had to go to a hospital, but was soon well again.

When he wanted a job, a friend suggested a school in the city that was just then re-opening. They wanted someone to teach English. The master of the school liked Opella and employed him. It was luck that he qualified for the school only employed those who had not been a member of the National Socialist Party. One had to be 18 to be eligible to join the Hitler party, and Opella was only 17 when the war started. After Opella had taught in this school for sometime, the Military Government asked this school to furnish it an interpreter. The school recommended Opella, and in this way he became connected with the Military Government. He soon learned to drive a car, and is now drawing a salary for teacher of English in this school at night and as interpreter and chauffeur during the day. In his own city of Cosal before the war, there were only 10 cars in a city of 20,000 people. Now he laughs when he drives out in a car.

For several days he has been ill with some stomach trouble. He tried to get an appointment with a doctor, but learned that it would be two weeks before he could see one. This afternoon he came to tell me "how fate is playing with him." He was driving the military car when someone ran into the rear end and smashed it up somewhat. The man in the other car got out and apologized, handing him his card and agreeing to have the car repaired. The card read, "Dr. Otto, Specialist in Internal Medicine." Opella saw his opportunity. He agreed to fix the car himself if Dr. Otto would give him an appointment the next week in case his stomach gave him any more trouble. This the doctor readily agreed to do. You can't keep a boy like this down. He is saving his money, and expects to enter law school this fall. I have promised to send him some clothes and a little money from time to time. If he were in America, this young man would soon be wealthy, married to a good family, and might be a millionaire before he died. He is talented in many ways. He has a brilliant mind, is a musician, is friendly and reliable. What I admire most in him is

Dr. Harry Little Leaves For Arkansas

Dr. Harry A. Little, chairman of the division of education at GSCW, before his resignation, left last week for Arkansas where he will become superintendent of the Little Rock public schools.

Dr. Little, a native of Arkansas, received his AB degree from Hendrix College in Conway, Ark., his Master of Arts from Peabody College, and his Doctor of Philosophy from Teachers' College, Columbia.

Before coming to GSCW, he had public school experience in Mississippi and Arkansas. He had been at GSCW for 14 years.

Dr. Little was commander of the American Legion here, was at one time president of Rotary Club, was active in the Jaycees, and took an active part in the Red Cross and Community Chest Drives.

During the war he served in this country and in the Pacific as an operations analyst with Army Air Force.

He cooperated closely with the public schools in Georgia, the state department of education, and other state educational groups.

At the time of his resignation he was a director of the Georgia Education Association.

LOCAL IRC REVIEWS RECENT CONFERENCES

Recent IRC conferences will be reviewed tonight at the 7:30 meeting of the International Relations Club.

Frances Jackson will give a report on the state IRC conference held at Emory recently. Ginnette Bouche will review the southeastern regional conference held at Auburn, Ala., March 5 and 6.

his love for his old father and mother. He had two brothers but both were lost in the war. Last week I gave him some fruit and a carton of cigarettes. When I asked him this afternoon how he was enjoying these things, he apologized, saying that he had sent them to his dad and mother.

Tall Tales Contest Offers You Chance To Spin A Yarn

Gather 'round me, all you Jessies, while I tell you how you may win fame and fortune all at one clip. How. Just by letting your imagination run wild.

In other words, if you like to spin tall tales, then this is your Golden Opportunity, because The Colonnade is sponsoring a Tall Tales Contest. Now, let me tell you the rules of this contest.

Stories should not exceed 350 words, and all tall tales must be in by Friday, April 23. If possible, the stories should be typed and the lines double-spaced. All Colonnade staff members are disqualified. By the way, just never mind about the box tops.

The winners, first, second and third, will be announced and their stories will be published in the May 4 issue of The Colonnade. Judges will be the feature editor and members of the feature staff.

Now don't hesitate. Sharpen your pencil and sharpen your wits and get busy!

Personal Relations Week Opens April 20

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cottingham from Douglas, will be leaders in an Institute of Personal Relations to be held on campus April 20 through 23. The institute, sponsored by the YWCA, will consist of small discussion groups, classroom lectures and personal conferences in which Mr. and Mrs. Cottingham will speak on topics that have been chosen by the students.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Cottingham attended Duke University. Mr. Cottingham received his M.A. at Emory University in 1938, and Mrs. Cottingham received her M.A. from Columbia University in 1944. Mr. Cottingham was associate professor of English at North Georgia College from 1938 to 1940. At the present time, Mrs. Cottingham is an economics instructor at South Georgia College and Mr. Cottingham is working with the University of Georgia Extension Service in Fitzgerald.

Mr. and Mrs. Cottingham have served as student advisers and counselors at Duke University Y's and in addition to this work they established and arranged for the continuous support, personnel and financial, of a community center in a slum area of Durham, N. C.

Mr. Cottingham served three and one-half years at sea with the United States Coast Guard Reserve. Mrs. Cottingham spent 20 months in Australia and the Philippines, during which time she directed recreation, supervised forums and served as assistant club director of the second largest Red Cross Club in the world.

In Douglas, Mr. Cottingham is president of the Douglas community council. Mrs. Cottingham is a housewife and a member of the faculty at South Georgia College. The Cottinghams have a 13-month-old son, William Thomas, III.

CGA Committee Heads Announced

New standing committee heads of CGA and the new chairman of Honor Board have been announced by Catherine Luther, CGA president.

Fran Holst, Macon, will be the chairman of Honor Board next year. Fran, a freshman, is president of Bell Annex this year. Celeste Smith, Washington, will continue as chairman of scholarship committee.

Huane Akin, Covington, is the new campus courtesies committee chairman. Wylene Edwards, Milledgeville, has been chosen as chapel proctor, and Betty Palmer, Atlanta, is CGA's new point recorder with Fran Holst as assistant. Maryleen Jackson, Mayfield, will continue to be chairman of the fine arts committee.

Modern Dance Members Given Top Honors

Four members of the GSCW Modern Dance Club were picked by a New York Dance artist as one of three college dancing groups in the southeast who gave top performances, in the Dance Symposium at the University of North Carolina, March 11-12.

The four girls, Barbara Burch, Thomson; Gwen Bince, Thomaston; Ruth Carter, Plains; and Frances Lawson, Tennille, won this honor with their dance, "Three Fantastic Dances" to music by Shostakovich. The girls will present this dance in the Modern Dance recital here on April 14.

Members of the club, under the direction of Dr. Barbara Page Beiswanger, will go to Atlanta, April 16, where they will present a program at Murphy and Hoke Smith schools.

NEW STANDING COMMITTEE heads of CGA are Celeste Smith, scholarship; Huane Akin, campus courtesies; Maryleen Jackson, fine arts; and Betty Palmer, point recorder.

Are "Jessies" Polite? Time Will Tell

Are the girls on our campus courteous? That's what the CGA campus courtesies committee is hoping to find out. And they will do their utmost to help forgetful Jessies remember little rules of courtesy that help make a person tip-top on anybody's list.

Huane Aiken, chairman of the committee, has announced that, in order to carry out these resolutions more effectively, her committee is planning a Campus Courtesies Week. The date of the week has not yet been announced.

Campus Courtesies Week will begin with a skit in chapel Monday morning. During the week there will be a poster campaign on the hostess system, dormitory life, and other points of courtesy and tact.

The poster campaign will be followed up with the social usage test at the end of the week for those who have not already taken this test. Only about 125 girls have taken it so far. Beeson dormitory is leading with 21 students who have had the test.

The purpose of the week are to improve chapel conduct, quiet hours, dining hall manners, and to impress in a general way consideration for others.

Edmond Perry Receives Scholarship

The Rev. Edmond Perry, director of the Wesley Foundation at the Methodist Church in Milledgeville for the past two years, has been awarded the Orme McAllister Miller scholarship for graduate study in theology. Mr. Perry plans to work for his Doctor of Philosophy in Biblical theology. He will study at Yale next year. He is a graduate of Marietta high school, the University of Georgia, and Emory University. He received his degree of Bachelor of Divinity from Emory.

Mr. Perry's wife, the former Miss Lena Bowers of Camilla, is a GSCW graduate.

Dr. Clyde Keeler Receives Award

Dr. Clyde Keeler, professor of biology at GSCW, was recently given an award from the Bache Fund of the National Academy of Science for a special project of the medical genetics program in which he is now engaged.

The work which Dr. Keeler is doing in medical research is financed by a five year grant-in-aid from the Rockefeller Foundation which was awarded him last year. The new funds will go toward the financing of a special project of this general program of research.

This summer he will present a paper on his research at an international conference in Oslo, Norway. He has been invited to stop in Paris enroute to Norway to lecture. One of Dr. Keeler's articles appeared recently in a scientific journal in Paris.

Friday, April 9—Annual Par-ents' Day sponsored by the Granddaughters' Club.

GSCW 'Y' Celebrates National Anniversary

National YWCA is 75 years this week. In commemoration of this event, this week has been designated at GSCW for the celebration of Y's anniversary.

The first YWCA in the United States was founded at Illinois State Normal University in 1872. The organization grew, and in 1886 the National Student Or-ganization was started at Lake Geneva, Wis.

Today, the Y has grown into a world-wide organization. The Student Movement has trained workers to go into professional and volunteer Y positions. The organization has aided students all over the world with the World Friendship Fund in the first World War and WSSF in the second one.

GSCW organized a Y on campus in 1895. Mrs. Marie Martin, housemother in Atkinson, was president of the organization at one time.

In commemoration of the anni-versary, YWCA on campus had charge of the chapel program Monday. Open house was held in the Y apartment Monday night for all students on campus.

Jesters Frolic On April Fool's Day

April Fool's Day was the oc-casion for a party given by the GSCW Jesters. After the party, members registered for crews of the coming college play, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay."

The Thespians of GMC sent in-vitations to the members of the GSCW Jesters and Alpha Psi Omega for the annual Thespian initiation service held at GMC Friday night, April 2. GSCW girls who helped in this initiation were Wylene Edwards, Ann Mainor, Virginia Bradford, and Jean Whit-mire.

The Jesters have been invited to attend the sixth district pre-sentation of one-act plays to be held in Russell and Peabody al-ditoriums April 16. Seniors who are members of Jesters will serve as judges for this contest.

Monday, April 12—Annual Hon-ors Day exercises.

Friday, April 16 — Dr. George Beiswanger will speak.

Monday, April 19—Introduction of the nominees for class offices.
